The publishers of DentalLife magazine sat down with Dr. Schindler to talk about her practice, her philosophy of care, and her personal commitment to her patients. A graduate of the University of Illinois, College of Dentistry in Chicago, Dr. Schindler is a general dentist who places a strong emphasis on dental cosmetics and complex dental rehabilitation. She has devoted more than 20 years developing a practice which combines art, science and technology with personalized care.

Dr. Schindler was selected by her peers as the #1 Cosmetic Dentist in central Ohio through WBNS 10TV's "Dentists Rate Dentists" survey. Dr. Schindler is also recognized as an "Official Dentist of the Mrs. Globe Pageant" providing cosmetic dental services to the pageant delegates. For the past five years, Dr. Schindler has been named in the "Guide to America's Top Dentists" by the Consumers' Research Council of America. In addition, Dr. Schindler has also been awarded the "Consumer's Choice Award" for business excellence in Cosmetic Dentistry.

Dr. Schindler sought out the most advanced training in dentistry and chose the renowned Las Vegas Institute for Advanced Dental Studies (LVI) for her ongoing education. As a premier post-graduate educational center for advanced dental studies, LVI prides itself on the caliber of its graduates. LVI was established to educate, guide and support dentists in the delivery of the most advanced patient-based care possible. "The creation of a beautiful, natural smile is heavily influenced by the talent and skill of the dental professional. An artistic and natural result is ultimately achieved when a dentist has both experience and education in the field of cosmetic and advanced dentistry," said Dr. Schindler. It is for this reason, Dr. Schindler has earned the Fellowship Award with the Las Vegas Institute (LVIF). She is one of few dentists nationwide to complete the Comprehensive Full Mouth Reconstruction curriculum at LVI. "Because of my commitment to ongoing dental education, my practice has elevated the standard of dentistry my patients receive." In addition, to further advance her skills, Dr. Schindler has also achieved the Fellowship Award with the Academy of General Dentistry (FAGD).

To uphold her commitment to advanced technology, Dr. Schindler serves on the prestigious 3m-ESPE Council of Innovative Dentistry. The council tests, reports and advises on innovative dental products and is comprised of 25 dentists throughout the United States and Canada. "I am committed to providing my patients with exceptional care by using only the finest and safest materials, techniques and advanced technology that would meet the approval of the most discriminating dental professional," said Dr. Schindler.

Of utmost importance to Dr. Schindler is the comfort of her guests. When a patient first enters the dental practice of Dr. Schindler they are usually impressed with the spa-like atmosphere and spa pampering comforts. "We have made an extra effort to design our office without the usual look or feel of a typical dental office. We also work hard to pamper our guests with complimentary spa comforts," explained Dr. Schindler. "Our goal is to minimize any dental anxiety or stress and help the patient feel as comfortable as possible. A patient's time is valuable and we treat each of our guests as we would like to be treated."

Dr. Schindler has a passion for the art and science of dentistry. "I am often asked if there is a difference between cosmetic and restorative procedures. In some people's minds, there is a divide between cosmetic (discretionary) and restorative (necessary), with Dr. Sharon E. Schindler

explained Dr. Schindler. "I really believe the two go hand-in-hand. I consider them to be interchangeable. I believe that all restorative work should be aesthetic. If you're going to take the time and effort to restore a tooth, it should also look good. Part of doing cosmetic treatment is making sure that everything else in a patient's mouth is healthy too. If you don't have a good foundation and you do something completely discretionary, it's not going to last. The patient has to have the understanding of the overall health of their mouth," said Dr. Schindler.

"I personally believe that a smile is a very important aspect of an individual's presentation to others. Committed to this belief, I designed my private practice as one that not only addresses oral and dental health, but also includes dental procedures that improve the overall appearance of my patients' teeth. Throughout my years in private practice, I have been able to provide patients who desire a beautiful smile an opportunity to gain one that is aesthetically pleasing and has a natural beauty," said Dr. Schindler.

"My personal commitment to maintaining the highest value in dentistry gives my patients the assurance that keeps them smiling with complete confidence. On a personal note, these are the qualities that I seek when choosing a medical or dental professional for my family and myself."

"From the age of 10, my adult set of upper lateral incisors were missing. They were replaced by two porcelain-to-metal Maryland Bridges in my mid-teens.

"My resolve was that my smile would look as if I had 'fake teeth.' One day, I felt pain behind one of my bridges and decided it was time to treat my smile. I discovered Dr. Schindler through my extensive internet search. To create my new smile, Dr. Schindler replaced my two old metal Maryland Bridges with two all-porcelain bridges and four all-porcelain veneers on the surrounding teeth.

"From the time I walked into Dr. Schindler's office for my consultation, to the point in time when her recommendation was presented—all the way through my two visits to restore my smile, I felt completely comfortable with Dr. Schindler and her team.

"The office is warm, relaxed and spa-like. Attention is paid to the smallest details, such as a warm towel, a paraffin hand wax treatment, a warm blanket, the choice of music to listen to during treatment, and the beautiful bouquet of flowers that I received upon the completion of my beautiful new smile. The most amazing aspect of this experience is that I never dreamed that I could smile bigger than I did before. I look in the mirror and find that I am amazed at what I thought was not possible ... Perfect Teeth!"

"I have been living with cancer for the past 10 years. The multiple surgeries and treatments necessary to keep me alive had taken its toll on my body both internally and externally. As this happened, my world began to shrink. I began to let my appearance go.

"One day, it hit me that I had not died from my disease and it was time to reclaim my life and improve my appearance. I looked in the mirror and realized that what bothered me most was my smile. My teeth, healthy for the majority of my life, had weakened with chemotherapy and I no longer liked their appearance.

"I wanted to look like the person that I was inside, one who was alive and engaged in the world. This gave me the desire to seek a dentist who could restore my smile. I went on the Internet and sent out as many inquiries as I could to gather information and to find out if the dentist would take a restorative dental case with a current cancer patient.

"I received an email back from Dr. Schindler's office and set up a consultation. We talked and they understood what I wanted to accomplish through my restorative procedure, as well as the medications that I took daily and my need to break should I have to undergo more surgery. I was delighted when, even in the face of difficult circumstances, we began dental procedures to improve my smile.

"The transition of my smile took longer than most due to surgery interruptions, but Dr. Schindler and her staff stayed the course and gave me the single most important gift that became directly responsible for my ability to go back into the world, my new smile.

"Today I care about making sure my hair looks nice and wearing nice clothing. I look forward to making plans for the day, the week and the upcoming year. I am engaged in life again and my new beautiful smile shows it!"

"I heard about Dr. Schindler from a local news broadcast who named her the dentists' choice for her expertise in cosmetic dentistry, so I was convinced of the authenticity of the recommendation.

"I had several old crowns that had developed holes in them. They were also a terrible shade of yellow and I could never use any product to make them whiter. Besides the appearance issues, I tried two attempts at orthodontics, and I still had a bad overbite causing TMJ problems.

"What Dr. Schindler did for me has been a huge transformation. By changing the way my bite is configured, I no longer have any clicking from the original TMJ problem, and my lower jaw has been moved forward allowing a more attractive profile—all this without any invasive procedures.

"I wanted the color of my teeth to be whiter, but I didn't want a mouth full of 'chicklets' that would look obviously fabricated, overdone, and too perfect. My friends who saw me after the dental treatment was completed said I really looked great and asked me if I had any cosmetic surgery done (which I haven't). New acquaintances have commented that I have a pretty smile—probably because I am smiling more these days."

porcelain veneers

One of the most popular options in restorative cosmetic dentistry today is porcelain veneers. Porcelain veneers are non-invasive.

Porcelain veneers are thin layers of porcelain permanently bonded to teeth that are discolored, worn, chipped, or misaligned. Porcelain veneers are non-porous (they will not stain), they are incredibly resilient, and "kind" (non-abrasive) to opposing teeth. When a porcelain veneer is firmly bonded to a sturdy substructure (like a tooth) it becomes very strong and durable.

Rather than encompassing the entire tooth a cosmetic veneer covers the visible part of the tooth, preserving a large amount of the natural tooth structure. Porcelain veneers can straighten, lengthen, and whiten teeth to create a beautiful smile.

If you are considering enhancing your smile, call today to schedule your complimentary smile consultation. Dr. Schindler will consider a variety of criteria which include your unique dental history, overall health, personal desires, expectations, and her professional understanding of your particular situation to create an exceptional final result.

"I met with Dr. Schindler and found that X-rays confirmed that the decay was much worse than what I could see. My existing porcelain veneers were over 13 years old. Dr. Schindler designed and replaced my old veneers with 10 new all-porcelain veneers. This dramatically improved the bulky appearance of my teeth to bright, white, natural and beautiful. "About ten years ago, three separate dental evaluations confirmed that I needed to restore my teeth due to soft enamel and extensive dental work that had left little remaining tooth structure. The enamel on my teeth had either chipped or cracked and, in some cases, was missing. I knew I had to stop its damage in order to maintain both my dental health and my overall health.

"Dr. Schindler examined my teeth and agreed that my tooth structure needed to be strengthened. A treatment plan was presented to restore my teeth in stages and to fit within my budget. All-porcelain veneers, crowns and onlays were done in stages to restore my smile.

"Dr. Schindler made certain that I was comfortable at all times during each of my dental visits. During each procedure, I was the only patient in her office and received her focused attention.

"Initially, I sought to restore my teeth for my dental and overall health. I had to chew very carefully; therefore eating had become a problem. It's wonderful to be able to enjoy my food again! Not only had my health benefited from restoring my teeth, but my smile is now, as my friend told me, stunning!

"I had a bad overbite and this was causing my upper teeth to wear down my lower ones. I had noticeable grooves in my lower teeth and I was very self-conscious about them. I'm 49 years old and my teeth had yellowed over the years. I had cavities, cracks and aging crowns that needed to be addressed.

"When you first meet people you look into their eyes and then at their teeth."

I was going into business for myself and I thought it was important to project a professional image. My teeth just bothered me. When you meet people, you first look into their eyes and then you look at their teeth. People sometimes get judged on how they look and I didn't want to start my new business with any type of handicap.

I saw Dr. Schindler on TV and saw what could be done to improve someone's smile. I decided to check it out for myself. After a complete examination and a meeting with the doctor, I decided on full-mouth rejuvenation procedures to improve my dental health and give me a brand new smile. All of my teeth have been restored with porcelain restorations. I wear a night guard now to protect my investment because I grind my teeth at night.

I hid my smile so much before the dental work was performed. A lot of people didn't notice because I never let anyone see my teeth. Of course my family thinks my new smile is just great. Now I have no reservation smiling for people!

My smile gives me more confidence when I am meeting new clients and working with existing ones. I would recommend this for anyone who has issues with their teeth."

full-mouth REJUVENATION

There are occasions when a patient's mouth is in very poor condition. It may be due to neglect, periodontal disease or even occlusal (bite-related) disease. Under these circumstances, treating one area, or even just one arch, will not resolve the problem. That is when full-mouth rejuvenation is recommended.

For clarification, full-mouth rejuvenation does not mean surgery. It is a non-surgical, comprehensive approach to getting the upper and lower jaws in proper alignment; removing all decay, and repairing all chipped, weakened, broken and severely worn teeth (as seen in photo above). There is no guesswork when providing the patient with such comprehensive treatment.

Dr. Schindler uses sophisticated advanced computerized technology that allows her to precisely calculate where to position your new bite so that it is most comfortable. The neuromuscular instrumentation includes electromyography to verify the muscles are in a relaxed state in the new position and jaw tracking to establish the proper path of movement of your jaw.

In addition, Dr. Schindler uses only the most advanced all-porcelain restorations with no metal or mercury when restoring your entire dentition. Dr. Schindler reserves the entire morning exclusively for you during the restorative treatments.

Ultimately, full-mouth rejuvenation creates a healthy mouth with a handsome or beautiful smile allowing you to keep your teeth for a lifetime. Craig is a recipient of full-mouth rejuvenation by Dr. Schindler. He can smile with confidence for a lifetime knowing his teeth are healthy and strong.

Beyond a renewed sense of confidence and regaining the priceless ability to smile naturally, there have been other positive changes in my life—both professionally and personally. My experience has been nothing short of fantastic!

"The attention to detail and non-judgmental approach to dental care was comforting to me. I highly recommend improving your smile to those who may feel either embarrassed by the condition of their teeth or who are otherwise afraid to see a dentist. It's time to make a positive change in your life if you need cosmetic dental work!"

cosmetic dental IMPLANTS

Dental implants allow individuals who have lost teeth the opportunity to replace missing teeth with implant restorations that look natural and feel great. Utilizing healthy bone structure, the dental implant replaces the missing tooth to restore your smile to its natural function. This second chance for teeth is literally changing the lives of so many people.

Implants are a wonderful option for individuals suffering from ill-fitted dentures—with implants, they can chew as if they had their natural teeth. Implants are also a wonderful option for those missing a single tooth or several teeth—these teeth can be replaced without damaging or overstressing the remaining teeth.

A dental implant is titanium and inserted into the bone once occupied by a tooth. Once the bone and implant osseointegrate (attach) to each other, steps are taken to restore the implant with a functional and cosmetic restoration. Dr. Schindler can restore your implants with full function while creating a beautiful and natural result.

Many patients say that their dental implants help them feel younger, stronger, and more confident. See Matt's story above.

For many, the memory of certain dental experiences overshadows the importance of maintaining their dental health. Their anxiety level can escalate at the simple thought of calling to schedule a dental appointment. Patients who suffer from these conditions benefit from dental procedures performed with anxiolysis. Anxiolysis is the reduction of anxiety by taking an oral medication. With anxiolysis and all of Dr. Schindler's gentle and comforting techniques, you will feel completely relaxed for your dental visits.

Throughout her years in dentistry, Dr. Schindler recognized the decline in dental health that occurred in patients who regularly cancelled or avoided routine appointments due to dental anxiety. Dr. Schindler decided to take a proactive approach to meet these patient's needs by offering a relaxation medication.

Relaxation Dentistry has become a wonderful solution for those patients suffering from dental anxiety to maintain their dental health. The ideal candidates for this type of appointment are individuals who experience high anxiety when faced with dental treatments, have difficulty swallowing or high gag reflex, difficulty getting numb, have complex dental problems and have a limited time to complete the dental work.

The patient has a companion drive them one hour prior to their dental appointment. The patient is then escorted to our relaxation room and takes a small pill. The patient is then covered with a thick, warm blanket and given all of Dr. Schindler's spa comforts. When the patient reaches a comfortable level of relaxation, their dental treatment begins. When the treatment is completed, the patient's companion drives them home to continue resting.

If you've been putting off years of dental work, or have been afraid to explore the possibilities of a new smile, Relaxation Dentistry can dramatically enhance your life.

the mercury/metal-free alternative

all-porcelain ONLAYS & CROWNS

Today, patients demand the best materials available and rightfully deserve it. It is for this reason that Dr. Schindler elects to use materials that contain no metal or mercury and opts for all-porcelain onlays and all-porcelain crowns instead. All-porcelain restorations, which contain no metal whatsoever, are remarkably strong and aesthetically superior.

All-porcelain onlays (see photo below) are a way to restore a tooth that has a significant amount of tooth structure loss or is weakened due to fractures or decay around silver mercury fillings. Onlays are an excellent alternative to full coverage crowns. Onlays are so conservative that even if one single cusp is remaining, a full coverage crown can be avoided. They are also harder and stronger than any filling that can be directly placed. Once the onlay is bonded into place, the tooth is restored to its original strength and beauty.

All-porcelain crowns are very similar to onlays except that they cover the entire tooth. Dr. Schindler only places crowns when the more conservative onlay is not a suitable option. The procedure is identical to that of the porcelain onlay and it is virtually impossible to distinguish the all-porcelain crown from the natural tooth. Since Dr. Schindler uses no metal in the porcelain crowns, you will never see that unsightly margin around the gum. These advanced all-porcelain restorations can make your teeth look great, feel great and last a lifetime.
